

Accept Patents of Main Line Men

Barricade for Airport, Dressing Tool and Spring Are Invented

Two Narberth men and a Merion resident are among the 720 inventors whose claims were ruled upon favorably by patent examiners, according to an announcement made this week by the U. S. Patent Office.

One is John C. Whitesell, Jr., of Merion, inventor of a dressing tool. Examiners gave him credit for 13 original ideas in connection with his invention, which has been under examination by the patent office since May 26, 1938.

Whitesell has assigned his patent for manufacture or exploitation to Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company, Philadelphia, according to Patent Office records.

Isaac M. Chambers of Narberth also got a patent. His invention is a new type of spring for railway trucks. He filed application February 27, 1940, and patent examiners gave him credit for 16 new ideas in connection with his device. Chambers has not assigned his patent rights.

Albert P. Johnston, Windsor av., Narberth, has obtained a patent on barricades for airport fields which pop out from under the runways like "jack-in-the-boxes" to block the landing of enemy aircraft.

Feature of the new barricade is that it does not mar the field nor in any way detract from the normal use of the field for taking off and landing of planes. The mechanism may be operated quickly, however, to throw the barricades into position when an enemy air force threatens.

When enemy planes approach, a switch is snapped and the barricade rises into a protective position. Should sabotage have put the power mechanism out of operation, a crank permits the barricades to be quickly popped out from the pits. The barricade itself may comprise heavy steel bars or rails.

Members Of Medical Service Corps Will Assist Red Cross

High School Youth Dies in Hospital

Warren Vincent Was Pres. of Christian Endeavor

Warren Vincent, 17-year-old Lower Merion High School student, died early Wednesday morning following an operation at the Temple University Hospital.

His home was at 1 Langdon lane, Narberth. Although Warren was taken ill two months ago before school closing his grades were high and he would have been in this Fall's senior class. He was a member of the Lower Merion High School Band.

Before being removed to Temple University Hospital, Warren was at Bryn Mawr Hospital. The operation to relieve the pressure being caused by a brain tumor was performed Tuesday.

Leaders Clash In Montdel League

St. Denis and Good Counsel Fight to a Tie In Ardmore Game

Two of the leading contenders for the Montdel League leadership crashed head-on at Haverford Monday night and the result was what could be expected. After seven of the most exciting innings the mind of man could conceive the first-place St. Margaret's team, from Narberth, had beaten off the bid of the Our Mother of Good Counsel nine, from Bryn Mawr, by a score of 2-1.

It took some stout-hearted hurling by Phil Curran and the proper use of some early-inning breaks to give the borough nine its seventh win in eight starts. For opposed to Curran was Jim Hickey, who turned in a brilliant bit of pitching on his own.

The Narberth nine struck twice, once each in the second and the third frames to gain a 2-0 lead, then spent the remainder of the game fighting off desperate Good Counsel rallies. Most serious threat came in the sixth, when Mickey Gavin's team, limited to a pair of singles to that point, massed four hits for their single run.

As it was Good Counsel came roaring back with another vicious rally in the seventh when with one

Election To Two Party Offices Confusing

Here is something new for the political record, if you can figure it out.

Hazel C. Richards, Cynwyd Estates, was elected both Republican and Democratic committeewoman in the Primary Election on May 21.

Also the one vote that gave her the Democratic Party position was cast for her by the retiring Democratic committeewoman who wanted someone else to take over her duties.

The final tally read: For the Democratic committeewoman, Mrs. Richards received the only vote that was cast.

For Republican committeewoman, Mrs. Richards received 108 votes to 14 votes cast for Ethel K. Boylan.

Mrs. Richards, by the way, is a Republican by preference.

Do Your Bit With Victory Books

Have you any books of light fiction you read and enjoyed this Spring and want to pass on to someone else to read and enjoy, too? Have your children, home from schools and colleges, any modern scientific texts?

Perhaps in moving or house-cleaning you found duplicates of and you're wondering who else will take the load from your bookshelves.

The men in service, the Army, favorite classics, plays or poetry, the Navy and the Marines, are anxious to have good books for recreation and study. For them, it will mean hours of worthwhile past-time while they are waiting to "do their bit."

So "do your bit," too. Bundle these books up and take them to the nearest library.

Gas Registering Starts Next Week

Schools in Township and Borough

Narberth Borough and Lower Merion Township residents will register next week — July 9, 10 and 11 — for "A" gasoline rationing cards.

All residents within Narberth Borough will register at the Narberth Public School as they did for sugar and their first gasoline rationing cards.

Residents of Lower Merion will register at the elementary schools in the school districts in which they live, the same as they did on previous registration dates.

The elementary schools at which registration will take place are Ardmore Avenue School, Penn Wynne School, Wynnewood Road School, Ashland School, Bala School, Bryn Mawr School, Merion School, Cynwyd School and Gladwyne School.

In addition, registrations will be taken at the Lower Merion Senior High School Gymnasium, Montgomery av. and Church rd., Ardmore. The area served by this board begins at Lancaster av. and East Wynnewood rd.; east to the Wynnewood av. boundary of Narberth, north on North Wynnewood rd. and Gypsy lane to Mill Creek; south on Mill Creek to Lancaster av., east on Lancaster av. to the intersection of Lancaster av. and Wynnewood rd.

Owing to the change that was made in registration dates some of the volunteers may be absent which would result in consolidating the work of some of the elementary school boards. It is this necessary announcements will be made next week.

Members of the Lower Merion police committee are being asked to make a study of the police practice in the Township of making arrests on fictitious charges of "suspicion" and "investigation."

The matter was brought to their attention last week by the refusal of Main Line magistrates to go along with police in discharging men and women who had been picked up by police and held from 24 to 72 hours in the Township lock-up. Local magistrates in refusing to "cooperate" with police did so on the advice of Raymond Pearlstone, solicitor for the Montgomery County Justice of the Peace Association.

Magistrate Walter B. Lowmyer, Jr., Ardmore, was the first one to discontinue the practice on grounds that there are no such crimes as "suspicion" or "investigation."

On July 1 Magistrate C. Howard Meredith, Bryn Mawr, started his two months terms as presiding justice of the peace. Last week Magistrate Meredith, who is a former president of the Pennsylvania Magistrates Association, declared that he would issue a statement on the subject after he had taken office and after he found out if police officials were going to try and approach him with "suspicion" and "investigation" cases.

In advising Main Line magistrates that they were playing with illegal fire in collaborating with police on fictitious suspicion and investigation cases Solicitor Pearlstone declared:

"Under the Penal Code of 1939, there is no crime designated as suspicion or suspicious character. However, in some cities there exists ordinances giving

Mrs. Mabel Fritsch Is Still Critical

Paoli Real Estate Man Held for Drunken Driving

The condition of Mrs. Mabel B. Fritsch, Narberth woman injured Monday night when an automobile ran her down while she was walking with her daughter on the sidewalk, was reported as still critical at the Bryn Mawr Hospital late yesterday.

She is suffering from a possible fracture of the spine, skull, ribs and contusions and abrasions of the body.

The driver of the car, arraigned before Magistrate Walter B. Lowmyer, Jr., at the Ardmore police station Tuesday night, was held for the Montgomery County Court on charges of drunken driving and assault and battery by automobile. Bail was fixed at $1500.

Henry W. Davis, 65-year-old Paoli real estate man, is the defendant. He had nothing to say at the hearing when Sergeant Daniel Magee, who arrested him, testified that he had been examined by Dr. A. C. Messmer, police surgeon, and found to be under the influence of liquor.

The accident occurred at Windsor av. and Wynnewood rd. not far from the Fritsch home at 219 N. Wynnewood av. Mrs. Fritsch, accompanied by her daughter, Anna Mabel Fritsch, had gone out to walk her dog. Davis drove his car up over the curb and hit the two women and then traveled another 219 feet before he was able to stop. The daughter, who has a real estate office next to the Narberth Fire Company, was walking on the inside and although she was thrown

Urges Care On Retread Permits

Applicants Must Comply with All Regulations

As a part of Montgomery County's effort to relieve the serious rubber shortage which is threatening America's war effort, A. B. Detwiler, County Rationing Chairman, has issued an appeal to all local War Price and Rationing Boards in the County to exercise the utmost caution in granting purchase certificates for retreads.

Acting on a bulletin forwarded by R. F. Ashenfelter, State Director of the Pennsylvania Office of Price Administration, Detwiler pointed out that even in the case of defense workers, although the importance of their work is appreciated, retread purchase certificates should be issued only if they comply with all requirements of the regulations.

To be eligible for retreads, Mr. Detwiler said, a defense worker must establish (1) that no other means of transportation is available, (2) that his vehicle will be used principally for eligible purposes, and (3) that he regularly carries other passengers to work with him or has made reasonable efforts to arrange for such pooling.

Further, he said, local boards should require the defense worker applicant to present a letter from his employer confirming the above facts.

Survey Planned By County Officials

A "Share-the-Ride survey for all County employees at the Court House, Norristown, has been authorized by Montgomery County Commissioners Fred C. Peters, Foster C. Hillegass and Raymond K. Mensch in preparation for the permanent gas rationing plan which goes into effect July 22.

To be conducted by means of a questionnaire in charge of James W. Potter, assistant executive director of the County Institution District, the survey will also provide necessary information to determine whether a staggered system of working hours would be advisable in operation of the court house.

The questionnaires will indicate to what extent private automobiles are being used to get to and from the Court House by County employees and whether further "sharing the ride" or use of public transportation facilities is possible.

Appropriations to eight hospitals in Montgomery County totaling $17,000 were announced this week by County Commissioners Fred C. Peters, Foster C. Hillegass and Raymond K. Mensch.

The appropriations are based on the amount of service rendered by the various hospitals to residents of Montgomery County.

They are: Montgomery Hospital, Norristown; Abington and Bryn Mawr Hospitals, $3,945 each; Pottstown Hospital, $2,820; Pottstown Homeopathic Hospital, $795; Elm Terrace Hospital, Lansdale and Grandview Hospital, Sellersville, $500 each; Sacred Heart Hospital, Norristown, $750.

Giving important assistance in a major phase of the nation's defense work is the office of District Attorney Frederick B. Smilie, which, during the last year has supervised the taking of some 20,000 fingerprints of men persons employed in vital war plants.

Industrial Users Must Apply For Sugar This Week

Applications for allotments for institutional and industrial users of sugar for July and August may be made until July 5, according to an announcement by the Montgomery County Rationing Board.

Applications for allotments may be made to Local Rationing Boards by the owner through an agent with a letter of authorization from the owner. County Chairman A. B. Detwiler suggests that applicants present the duplicate of the O.P.A. Form No. 314 to the Local Board at the time of making application.

Prompt cooperation with this program will be very much appreciated, Detwiler said, as Sugar Purchase Certificates will be issued at once.

Committee To Study Police Practice Of Making Arrests On Fictitious "Suspicion" Charges

"Warrants issued for Acts which are not crimes are void, and render both the arresting officer and the magistrate liable."

"Magistrates sometimes mistakenly issue warrants charging 'suspicious character.' There is no such crime in our law and the warrant is void."

CIVILIAN DEFENSE INFORMATION

WHY EVERYONE SHOULD SAVE ALL OLD RAGS

Many times the question arises, "Why should I save rags?"

The term — old rags — includes cast off clothing, burlap bags, draperies, mattresses, pillows and discarded carpets.

These are converted into a variety of products directly connected with the program of national victory. Some of them are passed through shredding machines and become, finally, the base for roofing and flooring material that is used for our defense factories and our housing projects.

Other old rags are dethreaded and rewound upon spools. Then this thread is again woven into textiles and finally become uniforms for our soldiers, sailors and marines.

Still other old rags appear to be useless and many housewives are tempted to burn them, because they feel ashamed to offer them to any collector. Never burn old rags: no matter how useless your old rags appear always save them and give them to the men on the red shield trucks of the Salvation Army.

These seemingly useless rags are washed, bleached and shredded. Then they become wiping cloths to be used upon the machines in the war industries and the machines of our army, navy and air forces. The United States Navy uses hundreds of tons of wiping cloths each and every year.

America is a rich mine in old rags. In attics and cellars, in stores and on farms, tons of old rags are lying idle and wasting away. The time has now arrived when we must work this mine.

Blackout Violator Chances To Be Auxiliary Policeman

Haverford Township fined its first blackout violator last Friday night but with reluctance, as he turned out to be a Lower Merion Township auxiliary policeman answering a call for practice air raid service.

The auxiliary policeman arraigned was Joseph Margiani, 2528 Bryn Mawr av., Ardmore Park. Although living in Haverford Township Margiani is an American Legionnaire who has been enlisted in one of the auxiliary services of the Lower Merion's Defense Council.

Several Haverford defense workers turned in reports on Margiani. They said he raced through the streets with his headlights glaring and refused to answer a summons to stop. Margiani testified when he was arraigned before Magistrate Roy Blackburn at the Haverford Township police station in Brookline that he was answering a call to duty.

Margiani, however, admitted that he had failed to secure proper "E" markings for his car and that he was wrong in not stopping to explain matters to other defense workers who were trying to do their duty.

The fine imposed on Margiani under the Township blackout ordinance, was $28, which included $3 costs.

Two other motorists had their numbers turned into Haverford police for failing to stop on being summoned. Police are awaiting reports from Harrisburg as to the owners of the automobiles.

Ask 50 Volunteers For Price Control

Will Visit Retail Outlets in Lower Merion July 9

Fifty volunteers from the Lower Merion Council of Defense will take part in the drive by the Office of Price Administration to meet the demand of retailers for help in posting their cost of living prices as required by the general maximum price regulation.

A program has been drafted for enlisting 50 volunteers from the Township who will study the posting requirements under a carefully planned training schedule and will take part in the six-state "Cost-of-Living Posting Day" activities on July 9.

The plan calls for a personal visit by a volunteer of each of this Township's retail outlets.

Dr. Smith expressed confidence that Lower Merion Township would have no difficulty in obtaining the services of the required number of volunteer soldiers in the Battle Against Inflation. He said he was certain that there were a great many patriotic citizens eager to do their part in the war work on the home front, and he asserted that this all-important phase of the price-control program was an essential home-front task.

Mrs. Carl H. Zipf, chairman of the Consumer Interest Committee, expressed her complete approval of the OPA's plan as an important service to retailers in every community.

Committee To Study Police Practice

police authority to arrest on view 'suspicious persons who give no reasonable account of themselves.' It has been held in cases under those ordinances that inquiry before the magistrate should be whether the accused actions were suspicious and whether the account gave of himself at the time of his arrest was unreasonable.

In supporting this Solicitor Pearlstone quoted from a Supreme Court of Pennsylvania case of Burk vs. Howley: from the Pennsylvania case of Burk vs. Howley in which the Lower Court charge was:

"Now, gentlemen, there is no controversy here but what this arrest and imprisonment was wholly illegal. Police officers have no right to arrest any one on mere suspicion. They have a right under the Act of Assembly and the ordinance of the City to arrest on view. That is, when they see a party committing a crime, they can arrest him without a warrant. But they have no right to arrest any person without a warrant merely on suspicion. They cannot arrest on suspicion a suspicious character without making inquiry of the person because the ordinance and the Act both say they can 'arrest suspicious persons who cannot give a reasonable account of themselves.' If they arrest a man merely on suspicion, he must be taken at once before a magistrate. He is entitled to a hearing instantly without being locked up at all. He is taken before a magistrate and if they have any evidence that would justify an information, then an information ought to be made and a warrant issued and on that warrant the party may then be put into prison. But they have no right to arrest a party on suspicion, to lock him up at once and keep him there several days without a hearing or without an information.

"I am aware, gentlemen, that police officers often do arrest suspicious persons and very frequently, it turns out that the party was guilty of some crime. Where this is an arrest without a warrant on suspicion merely and it is followed up by a prosecution and conviction of the crime, that will excuse or justify the illegal arrest, but it is necessary to follow it up and get a conviction in order to justify an illegal arrest.

Lt. T. M. Rodgers Takes Bride In Florida Ceremony

Parents of Former Narberth Man Attended Wedding

The marriage of Miss Gloria Montez Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frank Thomas, of Palm Beach, Fla., and Lieutenant (j. g.) T. M. Rodgers, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. William Rodgers, of 106 Woodside av., Narberth, took place last Wednesday afternoon in the First Methodist Church, Palm Beach.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of marquisette over slipper satin, featuring bands of rose point lace and a hoop skirt. A coronet of the lace held her long tulle veil. She carried a white kid heirloom Bible with a white orchid and ivy.

Miss Barbara Strobel, of Allentown, Pa., was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Margaret Chalkley, Annell Hutson, Ruth Bishop, Laura Hime, Peaches Buddee and JoJo McNeil. Their gowns were of white marquisette over taffeta with which they wore picture hats of white horsehair braid. Miss Eugenia Thomas, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. All the attendants carried colonial bouquets of pastel flowers. Carolyn Southard was flower girl.

Mr. Rodgers was best man for his son, and the ushers were Messrs. Russell Thomas and John Frank Thomas, Jr., brothers of the bride; Lieutenant Philip N. Drew, Fort Monmouth, N. J., and Guy Heath.

A reception followed the ceremony at the George Washington Hotel. The bride's cake was cut by Lt. Rodgers with his Naval officer's sword.

Mrs. Rodgers, mother of the bridegroom, chose for the occasion a gown of blue lace with harmonizing accessories.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, Lieutenant and Mrs. Rodgers will live at 1800 DeWitt av., Alexandria, Va., near Washington, D. C.

Lt. Rodgers is a graduate of Lower Merion High School and attended the University of Pennsylvania, where he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

READING & WRITING
BY Edwin Seaver and Robin McKim

EVERY schoolchild knows about the Midnight Ride of Paul Revere, but very few of us realize that this was one of the least of Revere's accomplishments. Actually, Paul Revere was the "handyman of the Revolution," and one of the greatest all-around patriots our country ever had.

Esther Forbes has written a truly great book about him—"Paul Revere and the World He Lived In"—which the Book-of-the-Month Club has selected for July. It's the ideal Independence Day book. Here are some of the things we learned about Paul Revere and his world from Miss Forbes' notable biography.

Although Revere's most artistic work was as a silversmith—and he was the best in the business—he was also a coppersmith, goldsmith, a bell caster, an engraver, an optometrist, a powder-mill builder, a watch repairer, and a maker of false teeth. He is said to have designed and fitted a set for George Washington. His greatest contribution to this country was founding the first rolled copper mill in the Western Hemisphere. With copper from this mill he outfitted "Old Ironsides," most of the U. S. Navy, the dome of the Massachusetts State House, the roof of New York's City Hall and the boilers for Robert Fulton's steamship, "The Clermont." Today Revere Copper and Brass, headed by one of Paul Revere's descendants, is once more helping to arm the nation.

Paul Revere was an absent-minded man. On the night he was about to ride forth to warn his countrymen about the British, he forgot his spurs and had to send his dog home with a note around its neck to fetch them. He also forgot cloth to muffle the oars of his boat—in which he was to cross the Charles River—and for this the girl friend of a companion had to contribute her flannel petticoat.

Revere's first "ride" was in 1773, when he warned the seaports around Boston that the tea ships, which were anchored in Boston harbor, might try to unload elsewhere—and not to let them. Later, he took part in the famous Boston Tea Party, which was probably the best kept secret of his day. Thanks to an oath which many of the participants honored, the identity of most of the men who dumped the tea into Boston harbor is still a mystery.

Among the more curious ordinances in the City of Boston was one that limited the height of dogs to ten inches. An exception was made, however, in the case of a Newfoundland dog named "Queque," which belonged to Samuel Adams. "Queque" was tolerated because he was allergic to the Redcoats—and vice versa.

Even at that time Bostonians believed they were superior to the other Colonies. One declared, after a visit to New York, that New Yorkers "talked very loud, very fast, and all together."

Paul Revere lived to be eighty-three years old and was so healthy that he never made out his will until he was ninety-one. Esther Forbes says of him—I quote: "He was one of the few who helped to plant the Tree of Liberty and lived to enjoy its fruits."

One of the most sensational murder cases in the county's history, it occurred on a lonely Upper Merion highway.

gone Joe McDermott blasted a triple. Johnnie Keaveny struck out pinch-hitting for Bradley, then after Jim Foley walked Morning skied to centerfield for the final out.

St. Margaret's scored their initial tally in the second frame, utilizing two breaks. Henry Cantagalli started it with a single and went to second when the ball went through. Hickey bore down to get the next two batters, only to have Cantagalli score when Joe Tobin misjudged Charlie Becker's fly back of first base.

Narberth loaded the bases in the seventh, but Hickey, who had nine strike-outs, fanned Coradetti for the final out.

Each pitcher gave up six hits. Curran struck out 11 and walked two, while Hickey issued one pass.

St. Denis and Good Counsel fought to a 1-1 tie in their game played Thursday at Ardmore. Joe Tobin and Jack McMonigle locking in a tight pitchers' duel which was called at the end of the eighth frame.

Annunciation won both its games to stick in third place, staging last-night rallies to sink both St. Thomas and St. Colman's. Nick Humes' triple with the bases loaded highlighted the uprising which sank the Tommies 5-3 at Brookline Thursday, while a 4-run outburst in the seventh produced a 5-4 decision at the expense of St. Colman's at Ardmore Monday.

Ban HIDDEN HUNGER, too, this Fourth

Most cities have banned firecrackers. Today, a less visible but even more menacing danger is that of HIDDEN HUNGER. You feel under par, irritable, lack endurance—at a time when America needs everybody's best efforts to help win the war.

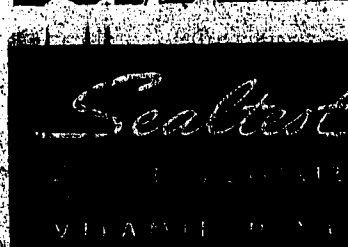

HIDDEN HUNGER is the form of malnutrition caused by lack of vitamins, minerals and other food essentials in the diet. To ban it, the nation's best nutritionists have created simple, easy diet rules to follow. Every one contains milk—a pint daily for adults—a quart for children. You need more than milk alone, of course—but milk is vital in a balanced diet.*

If you want your family to learn to like milk, tempt them with tastier Supplee Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk. When you order, ask your Supplee milkman for the new folder on refreshing hot-weather drinks made with this finer milk.

AIR RAID SOCIAL PROBLEM

The Blackout Visitor Who Camps in Your Living Room

If you are ordered off the streets during a complete blackout and told to seek shelter, it doesn't mean you have to camp in some unwilling neighbor's living room for the duration.

According to Dr. Howard Wayne Smith, executive director of the Lower Merion Council of Defense, the term "shelter" is being interpreted in this Township to mean "available shelter," and does not mean that residents must necessarily allow other people to come into their homes unless the householders wish them to.

In a resume of questions brought up after the recent all-night blackout in this section of the country Dr. Smith also clarifies a few other problems which have been puzzling residents in this vicinity.

Many have remarked that the street lights did not go out uniformly throughout the Township when the alarm was sounded. "Because of electrical conditions along the lines," Dr. Smith explains, "there will be a slight delay before all the lights are extinguished. While the lights are automatically controlled, it takes four minutes from the time the order is issued to the time all street lights throughout the Township are out."

Dr. Smith advises noticing any evidence of suspicious conduct during a blackout to notify the police. During a complete blackout, when the use of telephones is restricted, this information may be given to an auxiliary policeman or to an air raid warden to report.

Gladwyne And Narberth Invade Manoa Diamond

Determined to move up in the Main Line League race at all costs, Narberth added additional strength to its baseball club yesterday by signing the talented Rorer twins, formerly of the defunct Ardmore nine.

John Rorer is expected to be the answer to Narberth's uncertain pitching and Tom Rorer is figured to supply much needed extra punch and poise behind the plate. The twins were all-around stars at North Wales High School and, as sophomores, are considered the most promising athletes ever to enter Ursinus College, where they are the proteges of Jim Johnson, former A's and Narberth pitcher.

John Rorer won two games and lost three for Ardmore. He was leading the league in strikeouts with 40 when Ardmore quit the league. The twins are heavy hitters, John having an average of .400, and Tom, .300, with Ardmore.

Narberth entertains the uncertain, scrappy Brookline nine in one of the borough's Fourth of July features on Saturday, then will endeavor to break its second place tie with Manoa when it tackles the defending champions at Manoa on Sunday.

It will be a crucial week-end for Manoa, as Manager Frank Matthews' charges will challenge the pace setting Gladwyne team at Manoa on Saturday. Gladwyne will return home Sunday to play host to Irwin's Collegians, one of the two clubs to beat the Keynolds this season.

Overbrook will play two games at 68th st. and Lansdowne av., opposing the Collegians on Saturday and Brookline on Sunday.

Now that its internal affairs have been straightened out, the Manoa A. A. expects to launch its all-out drive for first place this weekend.

The defending champions hope to shake off Narberth, with whom they've been tied for second place for the past couple weeks, and gain on the pacesetter Gladwyne tomorrow. They'll never have a more opportune moment than the present because they face both of their chief rivals on the Manoa diamond. Gladwyne will provide the opposition on Saturday and Narberth will visit the Haverford Township field on Sunday.

Manoa has yet to conquer Gladwyne but holds two decisions over Narberth.

After meeting Manoa, Gladwyne will return home for a Sunday engagement with Irwin's Collegians one of the two clubs to beat the pacesetter. Narberth entertains Brookline on Saturday in one of the feature attractions of the borough's Fourth of July celebration.

Overbrook's last place team will play twice at 68th st. and Lansdowne av. this week-end, entertaining the Collegians on Saturday and Brookline on Sunday.

Haverford Rated Third In State - Wide Safety Contest

Haverford Township has been given a third place rating in Pennsylvania's Community Safety Contest for all places with 10,000 or more population in the State.

Lower Merion Township is in 10th place. Throughout Pennsylvania last year, there were 5008 fatal accidents, according to statistics collected by the Bureau of Inspection of the Department of Labor and Industry. Of these accidents, 807 were charged to industry, 1194 to homes, 2244 to traffic and 763 were listed as general.

Haverford Township had only one fatal accident resulting from an automobile collision which gave the Township a rating average of .0362 accident for every 1000 of its population, listed as 27.94.

Another Delaware County community, Lansdowne Borough, along with Waynesboro in Franklin County, led the list and had enviable records of not having any fatal accidents to report. Lansdowne, however, has only a population of 10,837 and Waynesboro of 10,231.

Lower Merion, with a population listed as 39,566 had four fatal traffic accidents and another accident attributed to a general cause. This gave Lower Merion an average of .1264 to every 1000 of its population.

Other nearby municipalities fell in the following places, according to their rating of accidents:

Upper Darby was in 19th place; Cheltenham in 13th place; Abington in 20th place; Philadelphia in 71st place and Chester in 90th place.

Assembly of the data is undertaken to stimulate interest in community safety. Figures for the contest among communities of 10,000 population or over were obtained from county coroners and registrars of vital statistics.

Named Manager

GENE DAVIS

Narberth pitcher, who will direct the Main Line League All-Stars against the U. S. Marines July 17 at Narberth in a baseball game for the benefit of Navy relief.

Davis, Matthews To Pilot All-Stars

Main Line League Team to Play for Army-Navy Relief

When the Main Line League all-stars pair off with the fast stepping U. S. Marines and the Fort Dix baseball teams two of the most successful pilots in the league will be directing the locals.

Gene Davis, Sr., who has been connected with the league since he was a schoolboy and who has managed Narberth for the last dozen years, has been appointed manager of the Main Line League team which will face the Marines from the Navy Yard Friday, July 17, at Narberth, in a twilight game for the benefit of the Navy Relief Fund.

Frank Matthews, who piloted Manoa to two pennants in its four years in the league, will assist Davis in the Marines game. Matthews will be first in command when the all-star team tangles with Fort Dix at Manoa on Tuesday, July 28, in a game for the benefit of the Army Relief Fund. Davis will be his assistant in this contest.

The appointments were made by Walter Hanley, president of the league.

The makeup of the all-star team will be determined by a vote of managers, umpires, sports writers and fans. Votes for players will be accepted by the league up to and including next Wednesday. A ballot appears elsewhere in this paper to accommodate anyone who has not yet turned in his selections.

Try your hand at being a manager. Select the strongest lineup possible from the many players in the Main Line League. Send your choices immediately to the editor of this paper. Don't delay. We must have them by Wednesday. The players selected in the poll will be announced next week.

CALLING THE TURN

The Montdel Catholic League, which is enjoying its third successful season, could contribute a lot more to Main Line baseball by changing its rules so that its players could get tryouts in the Main Line League without being penalized.

Gene Davis, manager of the Narberth club in the senior circuit, made this observation during a recent discussion on local baseball. Some of the boys were chiding Gene about going to South Philly and elsewhere for ball players, claiming he was overlooking good young talent right around home.

"There are a lot of promising young players along the Main Line," admitted Davis readily. "There are a couple on the St. Margaret's team at Narberth that have the makings of Main Line Leaguers, maybe better. But we have no chance of giving them a crack at faster company."

"The Montdel League has a rule barring all Main Line League players. That rule is okay in that it keeps out the more experienced players and thus enables the league to develop youngsters. But the rule keeps the more promising boys from getting a break in our league."

RULE CHANGE URGED
"A boy has to pick one league or the other and, if he picks the Main Line League, the chances are he'll see only occasional action because of his inexperience. Thus he's actually better off staying in the Montdel League where he'll play in every game."

"I think the Montdel League would help the boy and baseball generally along the Main Line if it changed its rule so that a player could play in at least a half dozen games in the Main Line League before becoming ineligible. Under this setup we could tryout some of the better boys, allow them to play an inning or so to find out whether or not they were ready for faster company. I like to break young stars in gradually and only in this way could it be done," concluded the veteran pilot.

Davis has something there. Let's hope the Montdel League agrees and changes its rule accordingly.

IT'S UP TO YOU!
There isn't a baseball fan who at one time or other hasn't felt the urge to step right out of the stands onto the diamond to take charge of his favorite club. Thwarted in this desire, he usually bellows advice and comment to those on the field, sometimes to the extreme discomfort of the directing head of the team.

Well, these grandstand managers finally have won official recognition. The Main Line League has arranged two games for Army-Navy relief and expects the fans to pick the lineup of the all-league team that will face the U. S. Marines and the soldiers from Fort Dix on July 17 and 28, respectively.

Just which players comprise the cream of the crop in the Main Line League? That's for you to decide. You're the manager. Select the lineup you'd like to see used in these two service games and send it immediately to the sports editor of this paper. Don't delay, because all lineups must be received no later than next Wednesday.

Your cooperation in selecting the players will be the preliminary step in the assuring the success of the games.

through a hedge she only had minor bruises of the body when examined at the Hospital. Both front tires on Fritsch's car blew out when he ran over the curb.

First person to arrive on the scene was Miss Dorothy Gabrey, Narberth and Windsor av., Narberth, who called Dr. A. J. Denman, the Fritsch family physician. He arrived in a few minutes and ordered Mrs. Fritsch to be removed to the Bryn Mawr Hospital in the Lower Merion police ambulance. Although whimpering from fright her pet dog never left her side until she was taken to the hospital.

Mrs. Fritsch is 60 years old. Her husband, a popular Narberth magistrate, died several years ago. Besides her daughter she has a son, H. A. Fritsch, who is in the Army.
